HUGHES HAS CALLED U. S. CONFERENCE COMMITTEE

Americans Plan Merely To Suggest Manner Of Procedure

AFTER RESULTS

Delegates Urged Not To Try To Dominate, But Foreward The Work

(Reuter's Service)

Washington, October 11.—Mr. Hughes, the Secretary of State, has summoned the first meeting of the American representatives of the Disarmament Conference for tomorrow.

It is expected that the meeting will consider the reports on the progress which the Government departments in working up the data which the Conference will need when the discussion of armaments begins.

Official quarters fully realise that the Conference must assemble in a very friendly spirit on the part of all parties if anything is to be accomplished, therefore it is considered necessary that the Conference itself should arrange the method of procedure which seems best suited to promote agreement.

The American delegates will, therefore, only suggest the method of considering the subject, outlined in the agenda which is generally accepted by the Governments concerned.

MUST NOT DOMINATE

It is emphasised that the American delegates will in every way take precaution against the appearance of attempting to dominate the proceedings and it is hoped that the other delegates will be animated with the same spirit.

It is suggested that minor easy questions should be disposed of first and the more complex questions subsequently.

NEW ZEALAND'S DELEGATE

Wellington, N. Z., Oct. 1'.—Sir John William Salmond, Judge of the Supreme Court of New Zealand, will represent New Zealand at the Washington Conference.

Peking, Oct. 9.—Although the Minister for Foreign Affairs, Dr. Yen, has completed his arrangements for the journey to Washington, and an unconfirmed report states that his appointment as a member of the Chinese delegation will be announced on the National Day, it is understood that the question of his going is still unsettled.

Mr. Chow Tze-chi has decided to go to Washington, but Mr. Wang Tah-hsien will not go owing to his advanced age.

WANT PEOPLE TO PAY

Peking, Oct. 9.—The Peking Chamber of Commerce has received a communication from the Mukden Chamber of Commerce, urging that the Chinese people should subscribe toward the expenses of the Washington delegation, and offering $10,000 as an initial contribution.

C. R. BURKILL TO BE AUTO SHOW'S NEW CHAIRMAN

Chose Successor To V. A. Dodge; Entries For Exhibition Close Saturday

The committee in charge of the forthcoming automobile show is to have a new pilot. At Tuesday's meeting of the committee Mr. C. R. Burkill was unanimously elected to the chairmanship, and yesterday he informed a delegation that had been appointed to notify him of the committee's action that he would accept the post.

The acquisition of Mr. Burkill is looked upon by those having the show in charge as a master stroke, and the motor car and accessory men were busily congratulating each other yesterday after they learned of Mr. Burkill's acceptance of the chairmanship.

Mr. Burkill will take up the work that has been so ably carried heretofore by Mr. V. A. Dodge, who resigned as he is soon to leave for America. Mr. Burkill will have the enthusiastic assistance of all the committeemen who worked under Mr. Dodge's leadership, and some new ones as well, including Mr. A. H. Hallam, of the Vacuum Oil Co., Mr. F. P. Bills, of Hudford Motors, Mr. R. R. Roxburgh, of John I. Thornycroft and Co. Ltd., Mr. G. W. Chandler, of The Dunlop Rubber Co., Mr. E. J. Surman, of Jardine Matheson and Co., Ltd., Mr. George Wilson, of the Asiatic Petroleum Co., Mr. F. Wells Henderson, of Inniss and Riddle, Ltd., and Mr. Joseph J. Keegan, who at the previous meeting was chosen honorary secretary of the committee.

POSTER IS READY

At the last meeting of the committee the official show poster, in five colors, was submitted for approval, and accepted. The poster is the work of Mr. F. S. Millington, the well known Shanghai artist, and is one of the best things he has ever done. The poster is now in the hands of the printer, and will be seen around town in a couple of weeks.

Mr. White, chairman of the building committee, announced that work on the big show buildings that are to be erected in Verdun gardens are well under way. As the committee is anxious to know, definitely, just how much additional room it will be necessary to provide over the amount originally planned, it was decided at the last meeting to close the entries for the show on Saturday. The exhibitors who have already signed will require all the space now available, and any enlargement of the building will have to be planned immediately For this reason the committee decided to wait no longer than Saturday for the tardy ones who have not yet sent in their reservations.

The next regular meeting of the committee having the show in charge will be held at the Palace Hotel next Tuesday evening, when Mr. Burkill will be in the chair. Mr. Dodge, the retiring chairman, sails on the Empress Saturday.

DEATHROLL NOW 36

(Reuter's Service)

London, October 12.—The official deathroll in the Rowan disaster is now 36.

Notwithstanding the highly unfavorable political situation, I have not, even now, abandoned the idea of continuing the struggle against the enslavers of my countrg.....Semenov.

Russian Leader Whose Aims Against Bolsheviki Failed Tells His Story

By Ataman J. M. Semenov

(Ataman J. M. Semenov, who was one of the most dramatic figures of the vast struggle between the Bolsheviki and their opponents in Siberia and, who recently came to Shanghai, a voluntary exile, has set forth in the following a personal account of his experiences. In this he outlines the causes of the failure of his long struggle against the forces of Bolshevism, describes in intimate and colorful language the obstacles that were upreared to thwart him, and though he has been held to be a passing figure in the maelstrom of Russian politics, he voices the purpose to go back and renew the struggle with his foes.)

MY exit from Siberia seems to have evoked many a false interpretation. My forced departure was quite an unexpected and painful trial—painful, because I saw, that my loyal companions, who stayed with me in the Maritime Province in spite of all privations and misfortunes, without, for several months, receiving their pay, leading a half starved existance, resignedly denying themselves their most urgent needs were still full of a glowing yearning to fight side by side with me to their last drop of blood with the deadly and odious foe of our disgraced and bleeding country.

But my heart, mind and will drew me irresistibly westward, from where the souls of millions of our brethern, who have been tortured to death, come forth in countless throngs to the Throne of Our Lord and implore our Maker to save the prostrated, hitherto great Russia and to take vengeance on the ferocious foe for the unheard of trials suffered by the Russian nation—westward, where all, from old to young have seen into what an abyss of ignominy, misery and death the diabolical illusions of the Bolsheviks have precipitated them.

WILL NOT ABANDON STRUGGLE

Having taken up as one of the first the struggle with Bolsheviks, who have enslaved my country, I even now, notwithstanding the highly unfavorable political situation, have not abandoned the idea of continuing the struggle.

After my retreat from Trans-Baikal I had the purpose of finding a new base on the territory of our Far Eastern Border, where, for half a year and at a great sacrifice, I was preparing to break the yoke of the communists and renew the struggle with them in the Western direction, where I thought of throwing myself into the deadly fight with the enemies of my country.

But I was deceived in my hope of finding every one a true son of Russia. Instead I found treachery, party diversity and narrow-minded intrigues, which checked my efforts at the very outset of the new period of the fight for the national idea.

Owing to the particularly complicated and entangled state of political affairs in the Far East and also to our internal discords, I and my heroes were prevented from carrying out my general plan of a campaign against the Bolsheviks in 1921.

Thanks to obstacles set in my path in the Maritime Province, the best time for military operations was irretrievably lost. Owing to the very same reason my force could not be adequately clothed and equipped to withstand a trying winter campaign in the West.

MET WITH 'TREACHERY'

And thus, there, where I looked for a base from which to renew the struggle in the current year, I met with treachery; for the population of the Maritime Province have apparently, not felt to the full extent the oppression of the fanatic-communists; they believe the false promises and, if not followers of the Bolsheviks, are not inclined to go against them. The Bolshevik agents, in order to sow discord in the ranks of their enemies exert themselves in their efforts to persuade everybody, that "it is not necessary to fight the Bolsheviks," that "Bolsheviks will disappear gradually"—and faint-hearted, apathetic people believe them.

This is why I did not find, on the Russian soil, on which I stepped with tears of joy, due support for my great national idea—the fight for my country against communism.

The population of the Maritime Province, which does not believe in anybody or anything, politically shortsighted, egotistically prepared to reconcile itself with the Bolsheviks, choses the hard and thorny path and consciously throws its own country into anarchy. And may all who trust Bolsheviks, who observe criminal neutrality in civil war, who have not drained with the Russian people the cup of bitter sufferings, may they all learn now by experience what the yoke of Bolshevik-communists is.

ARRAIGNS BOLSHEVISTS AS INTRIGUERS

It is time to understand that all discord is sown by invisible hands of Bolsheviks. Under various pretences and means they have worked their way into patriotic organisations and even succeeded in creating intrigues in centers of anti-Bolshevik forces and by bribery, lies and baseness have secured in these circles stable strongholds.

They have at their service, everywhere—even in the headquarters of anti-Bolshevik forces—simple-minded, stupid or mercenary men, who help them in their destructive work. Taking advantage of discords on the side of the Whites, the Bolshevik agents abroad, having grasped the prevailing state of affairs and assisted by pro-Bolshevik foreigners, have created in the Maritime Province such an international political situation, that the Consular Corps demanded the disarmament of the so-called "Semenovits," i.e. of the group stationed at Grodekovo. They were disarmed by foreigners and were deprived of the possibility of taking up the struggle with their hateful foe and thus heroically fulfil their duty towards their country.

The patriotic yearning to fight was found to be unsuitable to foreigners. They seized all valuables, money, arms, ammunition, supplies, goods of various description and equipment of the Far Eastern Army and even (in China) private property of some "Semenovits."

Thus foreigners, in alliance with Russians—traitors to their own country—have placed the faithful sons of Russia face to face with starvation.

I applied all my efforts to find a way out of this unbearable position. I did everything within human power to release the goods and valuables, but my efforts were in vain.

LEFT TO SAVE MEN

The only way to save the force at Grodekovo was to leave the Maritime Province. On such condition it was possible to secure the guaranty that the force should obtain supplies. This will give that force the possibility to subsist during the period of its forced inaction up to the moment when they are again united with me.

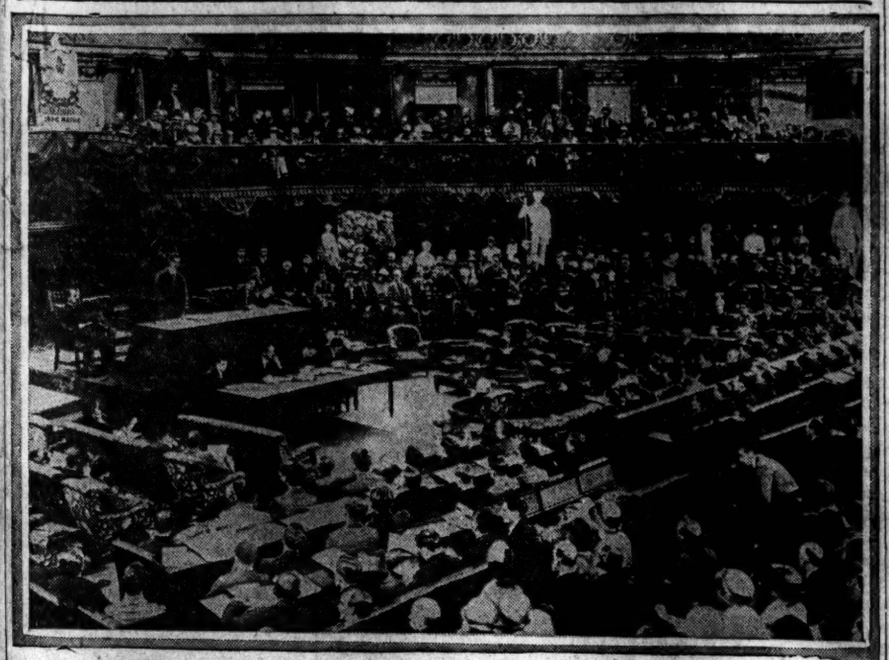
To save my units from starvation I have temporarily left the scene of warfare in the Maritime Province which had not yet tasted of the Bolshevik "paradise."

On my departure I prayed to our Lord "that the poor, suffering people shall at last come to see and understand that our discords weaken us and lead the previously Great Russia, to whose words the whole world had hitherto lent ear, to definite and inevitable ruin."

It is but natural, that when a favorable time arrives I will again take up the struggle against Russia's deadly foe and also in the Maritime Province. This time will come, when the fog of mutual hatred, private feuds, and intrigues lifts from the obscured minds—when they come face to face with red death.

In my farewell order I said: "Farewell, dear comrades, farewell till our meeting ere long. May the Lord help you to endure courageously and calmly your forced inaction until the struggle for our ideal is renewed."

Dail Eireann Holds Historic Session When Ireland's Reply To Note Of Premier Lloyd George Is Drafted



PEACE or war in Ireland? Upon this gathering fell the decision. De Valera is addressing the session. In front of the speaker's dais are the official reporters and the clerk of the Dail. In the roped-off section are the American visitors. High civic and Church officials are interested spectators. In the galleries, crowded to suffocation, is the general public. Many of those in the galleries are said to be enlisted in the Irish Republican Army. All but actual members of the Dail were barred from the session at which the reply to Lloyd George was drafted. This is the first picture received of an actual session.

CANAL TOLLS BILL BRINGS NO DISTRESS TO HARDING

President Is Said To Be Perfectly Satisfied With Senate Act

(Reuter's Service)

New York, October 11.—The press is actively discussing the Panama Bill.

The World in a leading article emphasises the embarassment President Harding must feel in inviting Britain to the Disarmament Conference while a Republican Congress is turning the solemn treaty with Britain into a scrap of paper.

The Journal of Commerce declares that the proposed amendment is indefensible and it is the plain duty of the President to veto it.

The Republican leading articles state that the question might be settled diplomatically before the final decision is taken by Congress on the Borah Bill, which will probably lie indefinitely on the table of the House of Representatives. Certainly nothing will be done until after the Disarmament Conference.

It is understood that President Harding and Senator Lodge have discussed the position and President Harding is represented as being "perfectly satisfied" with the passage of the Bill by the Senate and is not disposed to intervene.

Cut Taxes To Get Industry Started Strong, His Advice

(Reuter's Service)

London, Oct. 11.—Addressing the Federation of British Industries at Glasgow on the subject of unemployment, Sir Peter Rylands, President of the Federation, urged that in order to get industry restarted taxation should be reduced even if it meant additional borrowing.

He heartily supported the suggestion that the requirements of British Colonies and Dependencies should immediately be examined and orders placed in Britain for railway material and other facilities for which payment should be made by a loan to the Dependency at a low rate of interest. Such a policy would help to relieve unemployment and to restore Britain's position as a creditor nation.

Sweet Is Death That Puts Jinx on Enemy, Say Chinese

By Elsie McCormick

SHUFFLING off the mortal coil is one of China's principal indoor sports. Considering the fact that it is difficult to stage a dress rehearsal and that no single individual can hope for very much practice in the art, the Chinese are a race of expert suiciders. Statistics, it is true, are as strange to China as a haircut to a Rocky Mountain goat; yet, even the most casual investigators are convinced that suicides each year number hundreds of thousands and that at least one person in every four hundred makes his own time schedule for a journey to the hereafter.

The great trouble is that in the Far East suicide is not regarded as socially gauche. On the contrary, it is considered an eminently satisfactory way of getting the last word in an argument and a doubly effective method of telling one's mother-in-law where to head in or of expressing displeasure with one's employer.

To be sure, the victorious one has no chance to deer triumphantly at his opponent and remark, "Curses on you at last! For twenty years I have waited for this moment!" But then he feels somewhat compensated in the thought that his spirit will have full haunting privileges on a long-term lease, to say nothing of the right to plow and harrow his enemy's epidermis ad lib. with a view to raising a crop of goose-flesh.

COZY CORNER FOR LADIES

The Chinese, however, do not give unlimited encouragement to suicide. In Foochow, for instance, there is a society which stations two boats above the Bridge of a Thousand Ages and two below it to rescue [illegible] try to dash themselves into the rapids. In the Temple of the Eighteen Hells at Peking, where highly specialised sins meet with equally specialised punishments, there is a little cozy corner set apart exclusively for ladies who throw themselves down well shafts. We forget just what they were doing to the life-sized figures in question, but at least it was nothing we would recommend as a method of entertaining a children's party.

Judging from numerous reports of suicide, however, such object lessons in Peking and elsewhere have little deterrent effect. The man who commits suicide on the door-step of another achieves the acme of revenge. Besides the prospects of receiving unwelcome attentions from the shadow world, the recipient of the surprise package is made the subject of yamen inquiry so searching that an investigating coroner at home would resemble little Effie coming over to play with her dolls.

In case the person bent on revenge has no desire to return to dust ahead of schedule, he sometimes arranges to have a beggar's body deposited on his enemy's threshold. Though the beggar obviously will be less painstaking and assiduous in his haunting than the injured party, the difficulty with the yamen and the necessity

COAL AREAS OF SILESIA TO BE SPLIT IS FORECAST

Council Of League Holds Meeting With Experts Who Drew Report

GERMAN ANXIETY

Sees Serious Consequence If Mines Are Handed Over To Poland

(Reuter's Service)

Geneva, Oct. 11.—The Council of the League of Nations this evening discussed the question of Silesia in a full meeting including experts.

No official announcement has been made of the Council's decision but it is reliably reported that Germany will receive the districts of Gleiwitz, Hindenburg, and part of Beuthen, while the districts of Koenigshuette, Kattowitz and the remainder of Beuthen are to go to Poland, which will also receive the southern districts of Pless and Rybnik.

Judging from the towns mentioned in the above dispatch, the line of demarcation decided upon by the experts of the League will run from northeast to southwest and split the coal fields of Silesia into two portions approximately equal in area. As to the value of the mines and their output, that may be judged later by the volume of the outcries of the Poles and Germans over the award, since both nations held out for the whole area.

SERIOUS TO GERMANY

Paris, Oct. 11.—Herr von Mayer, the German Ambassador, today paid a visit to M. Briand. It is believed that he made a last attempt to explain the serious consequences to Germany of an unfavorable settlement. It is not likely that the Allied Governments will notify Germany and Poland of the decision before next week.

GERMANS ARE ANXIOUS

London, Oct. 11.—The Silesian recommendations of the Committee of the League of Nations have now been communicated to the Supreme Council in Paris.

Until the Council publishes them it is impossible to confirm the reports in Paris and Geneva that the recommendations favor Poland, to whom, it is alleged, Koenigshuette has been assigned; but, according to Reuter's Berlin correspondent, the reports have intensely excited Germany, where there is already talk of the Wirth Government resigning.

The press is heatedly discussing the question and significant official prominence is given to an article in the Berliner Tageblatt, declaring: "If the League of Nations is accessory to French attempts to ruin German democracy and the Government is forced to resign, it will be impossible to carry out our reparations obligations. Moreover Germany's doors will be closed tightly against bankrupt Poland, which is at present longing for German goods."

With reference to the German reports that Britain has intimated her opposition to the supposedly pro-Polish recommendations of the Committee it is authoritatively declared in London that the Allied Premiers will abide by their decision to accept the pronouncement of the League.

The life of the dye embargo will also be extended.

WITNESSES SAY GREEK ON TRIAL ILLTREATED WIFE

Defendant In Murder Trial Accused Of Brutality

Evidences of family discord were heard yesterday at the trial of Theodore V. Georgacopoulos, the Greek charged in the Mixed Court with murdering his wife in the country off the Woosung Road on the 12th of last July. The hearing was adjourned again until today, when it is expected that the taking of testimony will be concluded.

Declarations that Georgacopoulos frequently illtreated his wife were made by three Russian witnesses who lived in the same house with the couple, at 227 G. Avenue Joffre, previous to the couple's separation and to the woman's death. Miss Sarah Korff stated that she had lived in the house for about a month and a half and that during that time the defendant's treatment of his wife was "very bad." On several occasions, the witness said, Mrs. Georgacopoulos had come to her for protection, asserting that her husband had beaten her and showing on one occasion bruises which she declared were the result of blows. The testimony of the other two residents at the Avenue Joffre address was similar. They stated that the defendant gave no evidences of mental deficiency at the time referred to.

OTHER WITNESSES

Other testimony was given by the Chinese policemen who effected the arrest of the prisoner, by Dr. Murray, who examined the woman's body; by Detective Sergeant Gabbutt, who took a statement from the man after his arrest; and by Miss Wade, of the Foreign Woman's Home, where the deceased woman stayed for about ten days preceding her death. Miss Dorothea Yudina, who acts as interpreter for the Home, told of conversations with Mrs. Georgacopoulos in which the latter expressed a desire to go to Vladivostok to seek work. The woman evidenced a wish not to return to her husband but gave no indications of ill-treatment—only referring to financial difficulties owing to the husband being out of employment.

In the statement taken by the police following the defendant's arrest, which was introduced as evidence, by Mr. R. C. Faithfull, Georgacopoulos declares that he and his wife went to the spot where the tragedy occurred to meet his wife's sister, who was smuggling opium up the river. His wife, he states, became angry when he refused to see the matter through and attempted to commit suicide by drowning, he leaving her after he had pulled her out of the water.

Counsel for the defense, Mr. L. K. Kentwell, will call medical evidence today in support of a plea of mental irresponsibility.

GUNMEN GUARD SINN FEINERS IS REPORT IN PRESS

(Reuter's Service)

London, Oct. 11.—The Irish Conference opened at Downing Street this morning. A crowd, mainly of Irish sympathisers, cheered the Sinn Fein delegates and sang hymns after the proceedings had opened. Mr. Austen Chamberlain is ill with lumbago and was absent.

When the Conference adjoured until the afternoon armed Irish men and women formed a procession in the West End to the headquarters of the delegates at Kensington, waving Sinn Fein flages and singing Irish hymns and songs with varied cries, including that of Up Sinn Fein.

There were only a few spectators when the Conference resumed. No record was taken of the afternoon's conversations, which were in the nature of a heart talk to Sinn Fein. Stenographers were not admitted.

The Press Association says that a curious feature of the Conference was the fact that the Irish delegates arrived attended by gunmen. Each car had an armed guard with arms plainly visible in the men's pockets as they took their seats beside the drivers.

The Conference this afternoon lasted 1½ hours when it adjourned until 11.00 a.m. tomorrow.

SZECHUEN STILL IS RELENTLESSLY HARASSED BY WU

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Hankow, Oct. 11.—A wireless message dated Oct. 10 says that the Szechuenese are gradually retreating between Kuelchow and Kuelfu. General Tan Mou-hsing with his force is at Kuantokow.

Negotiations are proceeding with the consuls for the resumption of river traffic but General Liu Hsiang appears to be insisting on the vessels carrying his troops as one of the conditions.

Chungking is quiet.

The attitude of Kuelchou province towards Szechuen is exciting suspicion.

FIND 6 TONS OF DOPE

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Ichang, Oct. 11.—The steamer Kikit from Chungking has been fired on, one man being killed and the pilot wounded.

The Hungkiang has also arrived. She was heavily fired on but there were no casualties.

When the Hungkiang was searched the Customs found 174 packages of smuggled cargo which when opened were found to contain opium, weighing six tons, a record seizure with a value of nearly $500,000.

MISSIONARIES ARE WARNED

A warning to missionaries and others travelling up the Yangtsze to Ichang has been received here by United States Consul-General E. S. Cunningham.

The wire, which comes from official sources, declares that the situation about Ichang is unsafe for travelers and advises that missionaries or others whose business takes them into that territory postpone their trips, or, if that is impossible, that they proceed with the utmost caution.

Peking, Oct. 10.—Telegrams despatched from Hankow to the railway authorities here indicate that General Wu Pei-fu is pushing on in his pursuit of the defeated Szechuanese. One force of the latter have fallen back as far as Tikuei, while another at Patung is completely disorganised and is expected to retreat as far as Wushan.

General Chiang Tso-ping, the the defeated commander-in-chief of the self-governing armies of Hunan and Hupeh, leaves for Canton this morning. General Tan Yen-kai, former Tuchun and Civil Governor of Hunan will follow later.

MONGOLS ISSUE NOTES

Peking, Oct. 10.—The Chinese Chamber of Commerce at Urga reports that the Mongol government there has issued a new paper currency in denominations of five, ten and twenty-five dollars. The Chinese merchants in Urga have suffered considerable losses through the issue of these notes as they are not accepted outside the city itself.

Sweet Is Death That Puts Jinx On Enemy Say Chinese

for squeeze will be quite as great.

It so happens in China that a beggar neglected in life to the point of starvation on the highroad becomes after death a person of such distinction that a dozen yamen officials must investigate his demise—provided of course, that his body is found on the premises of someone able to pay a gentlemanly squeeze.

HERE IS A QUANDARY

The only difficulty about dying on a hostile doorstep occurs when a man has two enemies and is confronted by the obvious impossibility of killing himself in two places at once.

Another urge toward suicide is the desire of one disputant to reach the next world and present his case to the judges of Hades before the arrival of the other party. Under such circumstances, the other person usually has a suiciding party of his own as quickly as possible, so as to reach the scene before his rival has had a chance to put over too much doubtful testimony. One can imagine the chagrin of the first ghost when the second bursts in to the court-room just as he is painting the former's character in the delicate tints of post-impressionist art.

Failure in public office and defeat in battle were long regarded as compelling reasons for suicide. There was a time when disgruntled house-boys hanged themselves in the house of their foreign employer, but having learned that foreigners are practically immune from ghostly annoyance, dissatisfied servants nowadays merely kidnap the household's supply of tobacco and go to work for the family across the street.

GIVE WOMAN ARCH

Suicides among women are far more numerous than among men, the most popular causes being an exacting mother-in-law or an unwelcome betrothal. The widow who took her life after the death of her husband was honored with memorial arches in Fukien and Kwantung, though pressure was not generally exerted in a suicidal direction by relatives or friends. When a young wife is driven to death by a relentless mother-in-law, her family visit the death-chamber, support the corpse in the arms, place a broom in its hands, and thus sweep wealth, longevity, and happiness away from the house forever.

In Japan, fashions in suicide are observed as scrupulously as fashions in kimonos. During one year Chuzenji Falls was the popular suicide resort and several hundred people accordingly dashed themselves to death over the edge of the declivity. Later a small bathing place near Kobe became the mode, and accordingly the stream of death-bent traffic turned in a new direction.

COME! TALK IT OVER

Trains run all over Japan, but for some obscure reason, people traveled from every part of the island empire to throw themselves under the trains at Suma. Deaths became so numerous that a Christian Japanese woman of Kobe had a large sign-board erected near the crossing which bore the words, "would-be suicides, wait a minute! If you feel that you must take your life, please call on me first and talk it over." Below it was the lady's name and address. In less than two months, 160 women came to her as a result of having read the sign-boards.

With the spread of education and the influence of Western opinion on the subject, the number of suicides in the Far East is gradually diminishing. But the fact remains that the average Chinese or Japanese still attaches less importance to taking his life than a Westerner does to having his tonsils out.

HEAVY SLUMP IN SHIPBUILDING IS STILL CONTINUING

(Reuter's Service)

London, Oct. 11.—Lloyd's Register indicates that the heavy slump in world shipbuilding is continuing. The report showed that 3,250,000 tons of merchant shipping was being constructed in the United Kingdom on September 30, a reduction of 250,000 tons compared with June 30 but delayed and suspended tonnage amounts to 1,250,000, leaving only 2,000,000 actually under construction.

The average tonnage, completed in each quarter in 1913, exceeded 23 percent of the total tonnage under construction at the beginning of each quarter but it is now only 8½ percent.

The total tonnage being built abroad is 2,250,000 but nearly 500,000 is suspended tonnage leaving under 2,000,000 actually being constructed, the countries most affected by the suspensions being Italy and the United States.

SOVIET PROVIDES WORK TO ENABLE STARVING TO LIVE

(Rosta News Agency)

Moscow, Oct. 9.—In order to give them work and a chance of earning their living, the Soviet Government has organised public works for the famine sufferers. Some 40,000 of forests demolished by fire last year in the Chuvash district in the Volga region will be cut down for fuel and 160,000 refugees who have come to Petrograd, the majority have been assigned to factories while the rest have been sent to the rural districts.

The three days' drive abroad, organised by the Third International, has netted over 3,000,000 gold rubles. The people's courts of justice in the Gomal province are sending all fines collected to the Central Famine Relief Committee. The Red army in the Caucasus has sent to Astrakhan 3,000 poods of flour and 42,000,000 rubles.

All enterprises in the Jitomir province are taxed ten percent of their income for famine relief. 30 carloads of donated flour are ready at Kharkov for delivery to the Volga region.

The Central Famine Relief Committee has approved the plan of establishing permanent relief stations. The plan calls for the registration of refugees so as to afford them real help. It has been found necessary to feed 500,000 mothers and children of soldiers. The old military uniforms will be utilised for clothing them.

Moscow, Oct. 9.—It is reported here that the League of Nations has categorically refused to give any assistance to Dr. Nansen in his famine relief work in Russia.

Pershing Chafes At Tardiness Of British Ministry

SENDS BATTALION OF HONOR BACK TO COBLENZ POST

(Reuter's Service)

London, Oct. 11.—An incident, which according to American despatches, was threatening to develop unfavorably for Anglo-American relations, has now apparently been settled.

General Pershing had been waiting for the British Government to fix a date for the ceremony of laying a medal on the unknown warrior's tomb in Westminster Abbey but, tiring of the failure of British officials to reply to enquiries by the Ambassador, he gave orders yesterday for the American battalion of honor to return to Coblenz from Paris.

It is now announced from Paris that the British Government yesterday evening telegraphed to Paris, expressing pleasure at the proposed visit of General Pershing and assuring him of a very warm welcome. It is explained that the Ministers were absent from town last week-end but, when they returned the question was promptly dealt with.

General Pershing.

Y.W.C.A. In New Drive Plans To Raise $15,000

Chinese and foreign women of the community, two launched the annual financial campaign drive of the Y.W.C.A., yesterday began the work of raising $15,000 for the year's budget.

Under the direction of the team leaders the Chinese and foreign community will be thoroughly canvassed and the association hopes that the response will be liberal.

The leaders have issued a circular which gives a number of facts regarding the work of the Y.W.C.A. in China.

Why give to the Y.W.C.A.?

Because in a land of emergency appeals, this is one of the organisations which is steadily doing permanent and constructive social work—the best preventive of China's ills.

Because two of the most hopeful things in this ancient country are the youth and the latent strength of women, and the Y.W.C.A. works in terms of both.

Because the Y.W.C.A. can draw on all the experience of an organisation which in other countries has had half a century of history in training women for Christian leadership.

Because an annual finance campaign contributes to the education of the Chinese people in social responsibility for giving.

What is the purpose of the Y.W.C.A.?

The purpose of the Young Women's Christian Association is to associate girls and young women for development and service along physical, mental, social and spiritual lines. It was organised in China sixteen years ago, as one of the twenty-seven national branches of the world's Y.W.C.A. Today it has local branches in eighty-nine of China's schools and colleges, and in twelve cities—Shanghai, Canton, Tientsin, Peking, Foochow, Changsha, Hongkong, Mukden, Hangchow, Nanking, Tsinanfu and Chengtu. The total membership is 6,414.

A Normal School of Physical Education is conducted at 37 Kinchow Road, Shanghai. Its fifty graduates are serving as physical directors in government and mission schools all over China. Thirty more girls are at present enrolled in the two year course.

A National Industrial Department is just being organised in the interest of the women and girls so rapidly being drawn into factories.

Some of the newest developments in the local Y.W.C.A. of Shanghai are:

A self-governing Chinese Business Women's Club.

Development of the Girl Pioneer Movement, parallel to the Boy Scout Movement.

A largely-attended Better Homes Institute, with classes on home nursing, the care of children, home finances, recreation, etc.

A five-day institute for training women leaders in religious education.

A crowded hostel affording safe residence to young women who have left their homes to go to work.

"Mother" Burton Is Given Welcome By Chinese Girls

Miss Margaret Burton, former Oriental Secretary of Y. W. C. A. in New York, who has arrived in Shanghai on a visit, was warmly welcomed at the Y. W. C. A. tiffin yesterday by a number of the Chinese girls she "mothered" while they were in America attending college.

The arrival of Miss Burton was a surprise to the majority of the girls and the luncheon was delayed until the girls had an opportunity to welcome her. Miss Burton, who is now conference secretary of the Association, expressed great pleasure in meeting so many of her friends and was glad to find they were "carrying on" the work of the association in China.

Miss Burton accompanied her father Dr. W. W. Burton of the University of Chicago and her mother to the Orient.

Great Hopes Are Grounded In Outcome Of Conference Between Chita And Japanese

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Shanghai, Oct. 12.—Reuter's Correspondent at Harbin, writing under date October 7, says:

The Dairen Conference remains the subject of conversation of the day in Harbin. Both Rights and Lefts are founding great hopes on the Conference. The former believe that it will prove to the Japanese the impossibility of any agreement and the latter expect that a formal agreement, although of a commercial character, will also solve the political situation and, inter alia, the question of the Chinese Eastern Railway's territory, participation in the guarding and administration of which is the long cherished hope of the D.V.R.

It is the general belief that the Chita Government will now do its utmost to establish friendly relations with the Chinese Government.

The Railway Conference at Changchun between the representatives of the Chinese Eastern and the South Manchuria Railways has just finished. The Chinese Eastern Railway was represented by Mr. Richter and Dr. Hei, members of the Board of Directors, and the General Manager, Mr. Ostroumoff. The General Manager of the South Manchuria Railway was elected Chairman. The Conference continued for eight days and the agenda included, chiefly, questions dealing with the freight rates of both railways in connection with through traffic. Both sides displayed a friendly spirit and the concessions made satisfied both, being destined for the general welfare of both railways and of the industry of North and South Manchuria.

Navigation traffic has been established for goods forwarded via Loshagou, which station, as well as Yablonia siding, will be opened for freight and passenger traffic.

Great alarm has been caused here by a report, published in the local press to the effect that a group of Chinese capitalists, who hold the concession for the building of a tramway and a powerful electric plant at Harbin, had sold its rights to the representative of an American firm. The Municipal Council at an extraordinary meeting requested the owners of the concession to explain the situation. The latter emphatically denied the report, stating that the negotiations with foreign firms were being carried on with the sole object of financing the enterprise.

The sensation created by the daring theft of furs, despatched by the Zentro-Soiuz to Dairen and stolen by means of forged bills of lading at Mukden, has subsided. The railway agent, who yielded to the persuasions of the criminals and accepted a large bribe for transmitting the forged document, was immediately arrested and has confessed. Three other agents will be tried for not reporting the case to their chief when they knew about the forged document. The gang of robbers has been arrested with the exception of a few who dissappeared. The instigator of the crime is well-known at Harbin and in Siberia where he was sentenced to death by the Bolsheviks for various crimes but managed to escape. The furs have been located and confiscated by the Japanese police at Mukden.

WANT HORVATH TO ACT

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, Oct. 10.—It is reported that the Vladivostok Government has proposed to the Government of China that General Horvath be appointed as its representative in Peking. In view of the fact that General Horvath is at present in the service of the Chinese Government, however, it is uncertain whether the authorities here will sanction his appointment to represent Vladivostok.

MOUNTING RENTS SEEN AS MENACE BY COMMISSIONER

Situation Reviewed In Current Police Report For Month Of September

Possibility of disorder or serious trouble is seen as an outgrowth of increasing house rents in the International Settlement by the Police Commissioner who devotes some space to this question in his report for September which is published in the current issue of the Municipal Gazette.

It is pointed out in this connection that several meetings were held in September to protest against the increases of rent which are being made by some of the large property owners.

The tenants on Shantung, Kiukiang and Hankow Roads have formed a union with headquarters at No. 9 Mei Lung Lee. Shantung Road, and the Sinza Road Tenants' Union has been established at 227 Sing Kong Li Tatung Road. Efforts were made to form a Shanghai Tenants' Union and a meeting was held and an office established at 27 Fuh Yue Lee, Lloyd Road, but owing to lack of enthusiasm the attempt was abandoned.

"The question, however, is undoubtedly serious," the report says, "and at meetings of householders many of those who attended have declared their determination not to pay the increased rents, and if the attitude of both tenants and landlords is persisted in it may possibly lead to serious trouble."

Police Report Discloses Methods Used By Writer Of Anonymous Letters

Anonymous letters are again dealt with in the Police Commissioner's report for the month of September and it is stated that these missives show no sign of decreasing, notwithstanding a recent intimation to senders that their epistles would be disregarded by the police in future, if no name or address is given.

Continuing, the report says that investigation in a number of cases has revealed that many of the writers of anonymous letters merely were attempting to levy blackmail. In another and somewhat larger category the writers, it has been found, were seeking to revenge themselves for real or fancied grudges.

TELLS METHOD

"This says the report, was done sometimes by forwarding communications containing accusations to employers of the person concerned, who, although entirely innocent, found it at times somewhat difficult to get himself believed.

"At other times, particularly if a householder was referred to, it was done by sending a false and lying statement to the authorities direct to the effect that in a certain house, of which the number and the name of the occupier were given, there would be found gambling, opium smoking or something equally illegal and justifying a raid, which the writer probably calculated would justly cause the victim to lose face for ever amongst the inhabitants of the street in which he lived.

"Great care is obviously necessary in dealing with information of the latter description as it is usually couched in such a way as to clothe it with a strong semblance of probability.

BORROWED NARRIES

"Persons signing themselves "A dissatisfied person," Humanity," "Fifty-eight men," "M," "An informer," "One of the 400 million," "Society of Equal Wealth," etc., are in all likelihood doubtful of the information which they furnish being taken seriously, and this doubt in the minds of others probably accounts for the many occasions on which the names of prominent residents are borrowed and used against their consent and without their knowledge, evidently in the belief that the Police, relying upon the signature alone, will act without enquiring into the source of the complaint.

In bringing this matter again to notice it may not perhaps be inappropriate to point out that those who seek to render a public service and who have information to this end should call in person on the authorities and state what they know instead of resorting to writing anonymously.

"Anything given in confidence would be respected, and there is even less chance of their identity being revealed than there is in sending letters which, in spite of the absence of signatures, are, after all, liable to be traced, as has happened in many cases, to the great discomfiture of their authors."

Pott Wins 1921 Singles Tennis Championship In Three Straight Sets

Superior All Round Playing, Gives Match To Last Year's Champion; Result Was Never In Doubt; Scores Were 6-1, 6-2, 6-1

Bill Pott, the holder of the Singles Championship tennis cup since about this time last fall, won the right of possession of the trophy for one more year yesterday afternoon by his clean-cut defeat of G. M. da Silva in three straight sets on the Country Club court.

Pott's title as singles champion was never in doubt throughout the match. He started off with strong driving play, with few faults, and with a fine eye for the misplays of his opponent. And, he got better and better as the play progressed.

The match resulted in scores of 6-1, 6-2 and 6-1. Da Silva, though he showed fine tennis style and capabilities, never threatened the champ.

The gallery of spectators was small for a championship match, perhaps because of the chill; perhaps because it was conceded that Pott would win.

The play was not as good as the championship singles of last year, when Pott with a bad leg, beat Tanaka in three straight sets in a smashing, clever game. It was the mere taking of his rights of a champion. Da Silva never figured.

The play is described as follows:

FIRST SET

A netted ball, returned too low and a double serve both by da Silva, together with a pretty placement across the short court by Pott brought the score to 40-Love. After a deuce on two outsides Pott placed another safely taking the game. Pott placed four more in the second game bringing the score to 2-0. The fourth went to the third deuce on placements and faults by both men, when da Silva netted two, giving Pott a 3-0 score. Da Silva, on two short cross placements, a clean drive through Pott and a fumbled return by the American took the fourth game. The fifth began with clever tennis. Pott placed one on the far line. Da Silva crossed one just over the net. Pott drove one sharply to the side tape for a count and da Silva followed with an identical play. With the score at 30-40 da Silva drove one into the net, and followed with one outside for the game. The next game went to 40-30 on faults, when da Silva returned one service too short to a deuce, after which da Silva's outside and Pott's placement to the line gave the game to Pott. The last game was easy for Pott on two placements and da Silva's many faults. The set ended Pott 6, da Silva 1.

SECOND SET

Though da Silva won two of the eight games in the second set, Pott was showing his superiority in every play. He took the first two games in easy fashion on his own clever placements and on da Silva's faults, principally returns dropped into the net on too low or too short driving. The third game went to da Silva on Pott's Temporary wild driving of balls off the court. The fourth after going to two deuces, on da Silva's clever placements was won b Pott on two netted returns. The fifth was the only love-game of the match, Pott winning on one placement and three outsides by da Silva. Da Silva took his second game in the sixth when after deuce had been reached Pott drove one into the net and another outside. The next two games both went to 40-40 but were credited to Pott on da Silva's faulty returns.

THIRD SET

Pott placed one nicely then took the game on da Silva's two outsides and one into the net. The second game after 30-all on da Silva's short return and Pott's driving placement, followed by Pott's outside and da Silva's placement went to the American on da Silva's netted return and one too-short return of a difficult ball. Pott's double serving in the third gave the game to da Silva after his two outsides and one placement over the short court by his opponent. It was the only game that da Silva took. Pott took the next four games almost entirely on da Silva's faulty returns of his fast and confusing services.

SHANGHAI BEATS KOBE BY INNINGS AND 160 RUNS

Final Score 370-210; Allison Takes Eight Wickets For 18 Runs

(China Press Correspondence)

Kobe, October 11.—Shanghai cricketers easily defeated Kobe in the interport match here today, winning by an innings and 160 runs. Kobe socred but 76 in the first innings and 134 in the second.

Shanghai totalled 370 after compiling 243 for four wickets in two hours and a half.

Shanghai's first innings concluded with the side out for 370. Kobe scored in the first innings as follows: Kawasjee 22; Cullinan 0; Dalson 2; Rice 0; Abraham 5; Spence 2; Isilt 11; Lovely 10; Reid 4; McClellan 4; Lanning 1; extras 15. Three men were out leg before wicket.

Allison, Shanghai's star bowler with his medium fast mixed delivery took eight wickets for 18 runs, not a surprise as he can always be depended upon to upset a side.

The second innings went to total scores of Shanghai 370 for one innings, and Kobe 210 for two.

The scoring follows:

Wainwright, Shanghai's googlie bowler and a good forcing bat got the top score with his 74. The next highest went to Bichart, the youngest man on the eleven, only 18 years old a Cathedral School boy, with 64 runs, not out.

A coincidence of the match was the score of Bichart. The young player, on his trip to England last year, was selected to play against the M.C.C., the premier cricket organisation of England. In that match he made a score identical with yesterday's performance at Kobe 64. Bichart is figured as one of the coming bats for Shanghai.

A dinner-reception to the Shanghai team followed the match. The visiting team is scheduled to meet the Yokohama Cricket and Athletic Club eleven, today, tomorrow and Saturday. The following players will represent Yokohama against Shanghai: R. H. Challinor, S. G. Daubeny, F. D. Charles, N. B. Forrest, G. H. Gowland, L. B. Hannaford, P. T. Hollander, A. L. Piper, N. R. Plomley, A. P. Scott, (Captain) —and one other.

Umpires for the series are to be Mr. E. W. Maitland and Mr. Oscar Strome. Mr. F. W. Hill will be scorer.

The Shanghai eleven will return here leaving Yokohama on Oct. 24.

Police Football Men Draw With Xavier's In Practice

With Only 10 Men In Game S. M. P. Try Out Their New Candidates

The Shanghai Municipal Police Recreation Club's football team went through a nice workout yesterday afternoon against the Xaviers. Many new police players were given a try out. The score was a draw at 3 all.

The game was a scratch match purely. The Police turned out only 10 men. McDonald scored two points and Crowley one for the Police in the second period.

Both of the teams were in good form considering the early season. The play was clean throughout. Jimmy Quayle the Police star was noticeably absent. He will however be in later games. G. E. Knight, McDonald and Hotchkiss were the only Police regulars in the game.

At half time the score stood at Xaviers 1, Police 0. In the second half McDonald, bucked up with his old time style, and Crowley, a youngster, counted three goals. The Xavier team got two goals in the second period, leaving the score at 3-3.

The game was good considering that it was the opener of the season. There was no fouling. Every movement was clean. The outstanding players were A. J. Knight and Munson, both practically new men for the Police XI.

The Police team, which is being reorganised to give the younger men an opportunity to play did not have their expected strength. Three men were new try-outs, three others were playing out of position, and one position was vacant.

Because of the failure of many of the younger men to report for the game, it was necessary for two Police players to turn out in civilian clothes. Cameron, last year's goal keeper, had to go forward because there was no one to fill the position, and Isaacs, last year's reserve goal keeper, also had to go inside right.

In spite of the fact that the Police have 40 to 50 available

Giants Take Sixth Game Of World Series Tying Yanks; 'Babe' Ruth Out

Nationals Win By Score Of 8 To 5, Outplaying And Outhitting American Nine; Barnes Fans Ten Yanks; 35,000 Watch Game; Series More In Doubt

New York, October 12.—The World's Series is again an open proposition. In the Monday game the Giants again came back and impressively defeated the Yankees by a score of 8-5. The betting is even.

The American Leaguers and the National League team have now won three games each, the Yankees taking the first two and the fifth with the Giants winning the third, fourth and sixth.

Barnes pitching for the Giants fanned ten of the Yankees.

More than 35,000 people saw the game.

The score for the sixth game was:

	R.	H.	E.
Giants	8.	13.	0
Yankees	5.	7.	2

The American League team won the first two games, the National Leaguers the next two, and the Yankees made it 3 to 2 by taking the fifth.

The series goes to the team winning the first five games out of nine.

Babe Ruth, the Yankees' peerless slugger, did not play in the sixth game on account of injuries to his arm and leg sustained when he slid into third base in the first game of the series.

Chinese Bankers Admit They Cannot Finance Everything

BY JOSEF W. HALL

Peking, Oct. 10.—The Chinese Banking Group's Memorandum of last Thursday to the Government amounts to an admission that Chinese capital alone is insufficient to finance the government and exploit the resources of the country, and a suggestion that, since foreign money is required, the Consortium can properly be invited to supply the capital. This active and public declaration in favor of the Consortium by the class which have done most to delay Consortium operations, evidences a radical change of policy, and probably foreshadows the consummation of a Consortium loan. The disapproval the Chinese bankers has hitherto prevented the government from approaching the Consortium. There is reason to believe that their change of attitude to approval will be as influential in encouraging the government to negotiate with Consortium representatives.

The bankers have not neglected to throw safeguards about the use of foreign money. They would have the lenders given no other power than "audit" over the borrower's business (it is assumed that the borrower is to be a railway), would have foreigners employed only in technical capacities, and the control and administration of the business to be wholly in Chinese hands and untrammeled.

They declare unequivocally against internationalisation of the railways, meaning unified administration by an international commission. The Consortium representatives by the way, deny, any intention of promoting such a type of internationalisation, and say that this unfortunate word has brought much suspicion upon their scheme. The internationalisation which they stand for is simply internationalisation of financing and loan expenditure supervision, which is implied by the fact that the Consortium is an international concern.

HAVE NOTHING TO GAIN

The Bankers' Memorandum is a source of congratulation to the promoters and friends of the Consortium because, although foreign financing of China is inevitable, it is by no means inevitable that this financing shall be done by the Consortium as it present constituted, and protracted opposition on the part of the native bankers would go far toward assuring this latter result. The bankers, of course, have no more to gain by such opposition, and therefore withdraw it.

Their memorandum is concerned with currency reform as well as foreign financing and railways. This portion of it is of particular interest in Shanghai. It is known that the Chinese Banking Group considers its Shanghai mint loan to be the first practical step toward the consummation of its plan that "Gold shall be adoped as the basis of Chinese currency. As a means toward the introduction of a Gold standard, the values of silver dollars and subsidiary coins are to be adjusted.

TO ABOLISH TAELS

"The use of the tael is to be abolished, and the silver dollar serve as the sole medium of exchange, finding a place among the market quotations on international exchange. Old coins should be withdrawn and substituted with decimal system coins, put out according to uniform standards by mints under one administration."

This is an ambitious program, and one at which more than one Don Quixote has broken his lance. It is anticipated that the greatest opposition toward it will come from the powerful exchange-shop guilds. It is an interesting speculation, however, as to how the foreign banks, always more successful than the Chinese banks in international exchange brokerage, will line up on the issue. Most of these banks have made ordinary banking business, as it is known in their home countries, merely a side issue to exchange turnovers, which have netted them from fifteen to fifty percent profit.

Here is another pill for the foreign banks to swallow. "The paper currency of the country should be standardised. With a view to uniformity means should be found to stop the foreign banks from the issuance of notes."

The chief logic in favor of this proposal comes in the argument that, from its own standpoint, the Chinese government cannot investigate nor determine the ability of the foreign bank to cover its liabilities, since the bank is under foreign or consular jurisdiction and not amenable to Chinese authority.

RETORT OF BANKS

The banks may retort that so long as the Chinese government remains so inefficient as it now is amenableness to the foreign jurisdiction is more assurity than that to Chinese jurisdiction, and that as soon as the government becomes efficient there is reason to believe that the special privileges of consular jurisdiction will be withdrawn. More sympathy will exist with the further proposal, aimed principally at Japanese banks issuing Yen currency notes on Chinese soil:

"As note issues in foreign currency made by foreign banks on Chinese territory infringes Chinese sovereignty, strong action should be taken to stop such issues." No nation with a shred of sovereign pride should permit foreigners to issue alien currency upon her soil.

The Chinese bankers realise that the foreign banks can hardly be persuaded to be party toward floating a plan of currency reform which would cook the goose which lays their golden eggs. But some scheme of floating it they must have, and here they apparently resort to the utopian and visionary.

"The profits realised from the minting of new subsidiary coins should be deposited in a sinking fund which should be used solely in financing the introduction of a uniform silver currency and the adoption of a gold standard. Thus a large loan may be dispensed with."

This sounds like raising oneself by the bootstraps, or rather like the old scheme of the cat farm, whereby rats were to be raised as food for the cats, cat-carcasses were to feed the rats, and the cat-pelts were to provide easy riches for the farmer.

But the Chinese bankers have thus-far shown themselves a hard-headed and shrewd lot, and perhaps we are "risking our faces to laugh."

FIFTEEN TEAMS TO AID DRIVE FOR AMERICAN SCHOOL

Hundred And Fifty Workers Will Canvass City For Fund

Final plans are fast being whipped into shape for the Shanghai American School's campaign to raise $150,000 which is to be officially launched next Monday. The scheme for covering the city has been systematically worked out by the leaders of the canvassing teams and it is planned to have about 150 workers in the field visiting firms and individuals, who already have been listed during the drive period.

At a meeting held yesterday at the home of Mrs. E. S. Cunningham it was indicated that there will be ten lady and five men captains of canvassing teams, each leader to muster ten helpers. Lists of names have been prepared, as mentioned, and the greatest enthusiasm prevails among those who are to work toward the raising of the fund. The workers will assemble at tiffin each day at the Navy Y.M.C.A. when reports of progress will be made, suggestions will be called for and general discussions of the campaign will be entered into with a view to maintaining interest.

Several innovations are planned with the idea of creating public interest in the campaign, details of which will be given out later, and it is planned to have indicators at various points in the Settlement to show the progress made.

It was announced yesterday that two more workers, Mr. F. C. Noble, of the American Trading Company, and Mr. Graham, of the Standard Oil Company, have been given permission by their firms to devote their entire time to the school project during the course of the endeavors.

Mr. Bassett Guest Of Chinese Friends At Farewell Dinner

A farewell banquet in honor of Mr. Arthur Bassett, former solicitor and now one of the sales managers of the British-American Tobacco Company, was held at the Great Eastern Hotel last night, Mr. Feng Ping-nam of Ellis and Hays being the host. A number of prominent foreign and Chinese guests were present.

In the course of the banquet a tribute was paid by the host to the good work Mr. Bassett had done by promoting the spirit of Cooperation between Chinese and foreigners, a spirit responsible for the great success of the B. A. T.

In response Mr. Bassett said that he had a keen interest in the welfare of China and because of this interest he has decided to be present at the Washington Conference as a spectator. He mentions the interesting fact that a group of old China hands interested in seeing China make progress have engaged two rooms in a Chinese restaurant at Washington where they lunch regularly in order to discuss Chinese questions.

"If you hear good news for China as a result of the Washington Conference, you will know that this small group has done good work for you. If the reverse is the case, then forget that we are there."

Mr. Bassett emphasised the importance of co-operation between Chinese and foreigners and praised Mr. Feng as a promoter of this phase of Chinese-foreign friendship, Mr. Bassett is leaving Shanghai on six months' furlough.

Big Fir Tree To Be Carved Into Chair For Robert Dollar

Two Loggers To Be Busy Year In Spare Time

Vancouver (B. C.). To carve by hand a throne for Captain Robert Dollar, head of the Dollar Steamship Line, from the trunk of an exceptionally large Douglas fir tree is the task which two of the employes of the company working in a logging camp near here have set for themselves.

One slice of this huge tree, measuring seven feet across, will be hoisted aboard the steamer Grace Dollar and sent to Japan as an exhibit, but from the other piece will be carved a solid chair of generous proportions for the shipping magnate. The men estimate it will require more than a year to do the carving in their spare time.

"Began to think she would never get well."
Our Portrait is of Miss FLORRIE ORGAN, of 100, Clark Street, Ladywood, Birmingham, England, whose father writes:
"My daughter Florrie was suffering with a very bad head covered with Sores and Eruptions, and in fact her mother was afraid to comb her hair. She had been under several doctors, but all to no purpose, so I began to think she would never get well again and lose all her hair. As your 'Clarke's Blood Mixture' cured me of Glandular Swellings in the Neck some years ago, and so averted my having to undergo an operation, I decided to give 'Clarke's Blood Mixture' a fair trial in the case of my daughter, and I am pleased to say it effected a wonderful cure in just over a fortnight."
SUFFERERS from Bad Legs, Abscesses, Ulcers, Glandular Swellings, Piles, Eczema, Boils, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, Eruptions, Rheumatism, Gout, should realise that lotions and ointments can but give temporary relief; to be sure of complete and lasting benefit the blood must be thoroughly cleansed of the impure waste matter the root cause of such troubles. Clarke's Blood Mixture quickly attacks, overcomes and expels the impurities; that is why so many remarkable recoveries stand to its credit. Pleasant to take, and free from injurious ingredients.

Honor 'People's Delegates' To Pacific Conference

Yesterday afternoon a united convention of the National Conference of the Chinese Chambers of Commerce and the National Federation of Provincial Educational Associations was held at the Chinese General Chamber of Commerce. Mr. C. C. Nieh presided as provisional chairman.

After announcing the object of the united convention as being to co-ordinate the efforts of the commercial and educational bodies in order to arrive at decisons based on a candid exchange of views between them on the Pacific issue, the national flag was saluted.

The rules of procedure for the united convention were read and passed unamiously and Dr. Huang Yen-pei, vice-president of the Kiangsu Educational Association, was elected chairman.

The business done at the initial meeting included the framing of an answer to Dr. Tsai Yen-pei, Chancellor of Peking University, who sent two telegrams asking if the Shanghai organisation known as the Pacific Conference Association would be prepared to amalgamate with a similar organisation in Peking and inquiring what are the steps to be taken. The reply as decided at the meeting informs Dr. Tsai that as the Association had just been formed, a complete answer to the inquiries cannot be sent as yet.

The next question was the formal recognition of Dr. David Yui, General Secretary of the National Committee of the Young Men's Christian Association, and Dr. Chiang Mon-ling, former Acting President of Peking Government University, as the "people's delegates" to Washington. This was proposed by the National Federation of the Provincial Educational Associations and was unanimously passed.

ENTERTAIN DELEGATES

Nine organisations entertained Dr. Yui and Dr. Chiang at the Great Eastern Hotel last night at a banquet. Mr. Shen Hsin-ching, chairman of the Kiangsu Educational Association, presided. The principal speakers of the evening were Dr. Yui and Dr. Chiang.

Dr. Yui said in part: "Westerners, especially Americans, are in real earnest to know what we want and what we really can do. The Americans appreciate the help we gave to the Red Cross. They are led to believe what the Japanese say only because they do not really know the real situation in the Orient."

Dr. Yui pointed out that the success of propaganda work lies in the extent of progressive enterprise. For example, Canton's example of forfeiting a revenue of $13,000,000 in order to suppress gambling is well worth emulation.

Dr. Chiang Mon-ling advocated the introduction of municipal administration on a large scale, citing the instance of the Municipality in Canton where they recently succeeded in building 40,000 feet of main road at a cost of $500,000 when for the same length the cost was $4,000,000 under the old corrupt administration.

According to Dr. Chiang who recently visited Canton, the Canton Government will not send any delegate to Washington because of the American government's recognition of Peking as the de facto government. Speeches were also made by Mr. H. Y. Moh, Mr H. H. Wang, of the Commercial Press; Shao Chung-hui, of the Min Kuo Jih Pao; Dr. Huang Yen-pei; Wu Ho-shih, Acting General Secretary of the World's Chinese Students' Federation; Tsui Tung-yoh, of the Chinese Overseas Association and Francis Zia.

Among those present were Commissioner Hsu Yuan of the Bureau of Foreign Affairs; Mr. C. C. Nieh; Mr. Kwoh Chun, General Manager of Wing On; Mr. Sze Liang-tsai, Managing Director of the Shun Pao, and Mr. Kao Feng-chih, President of the Commercial Press.

The delegates were promised full support in two directions: regular advices on Chinese events and vigorous efforts to improve the political situation.

A resolution was passed that a large party be arranged to give the two popular delegates a big send off.

Medical Association Men Banquet Visiting Doctors

Members of the Shanghai branch of the National Medical Association were hosts last night to Drs. G. E. de Schweinitz, John A. Clark and F. F. Simpson, distinguished specialists who came to China to participate in the dedication of the Peking Union Medical School and who sail Saturday on the Empress of Russia.

The dinner was held at the Ningpo Association Building, 4A Thibet Road and twenty-nine foreign and Chinese physicians were in attendance. Dr. E. S. Tyau acted as toastmaster and the speech of welcome to the guests of honor was made by Dr. C. V. E. Yui, president of the National Medical Association.

In introducing Dr. de Schweinitz, who is president elect of the American Medical Association and is recognised as one of the greatest eye specialists in the world, Dr. Tyau, mentioning this latter point, remarked that there are more blind in China than in any other country in the world.

Dr. de Schweinitz, speaking of the necessity of a continuity of spirit in the medical fraternity which must be worth while, emphasised the importance of developing that spirit on international lines and expressed the hope of cordial relationships between men of the profession in America and China. If, while president of the American Medical Association, he could be of any assistance to Chinese doctors, either here or in the United States, he would be glad to do whatever lies in his power.

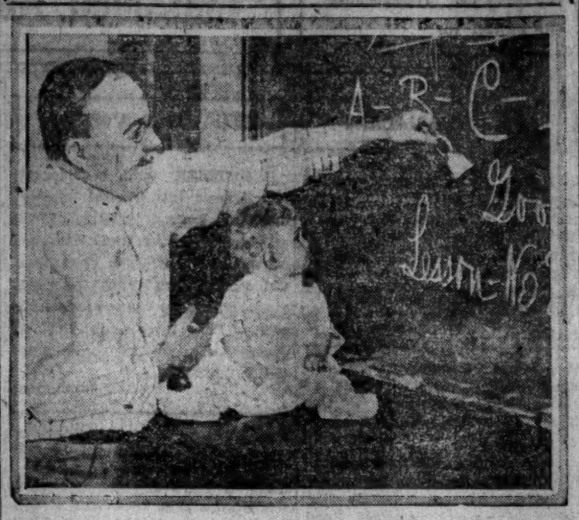
Speaking of problems facing the American Medical Association Dr. de Schweinitz emphasised two especially—educational changes and the "urbanisation of the medical profession." Efforts with regard to the first point must be made to concentrate more heavily on how to prevent than upon how to cure, to lay stress upon health conservation. Referring to the flocking of physicians to the cities, he said that study must be given to the task of bringing a sufficiency of these men back to the country.

Dr. de Schweinitz paid a sincere compliment to the National Medical Association for the high standards which it has adopted and concluded his remarks with the parable of the lighthousekeeper's daughter who, in time of famine, refused to give up the keg of oil to the clamoring famine victims because the "light must be kept." It is the task of the National Medical Association and the American Medical Association he said, to "keep the lights" in China and America.

Dr. Clark also spoke, telling a number of entertaining stories and his talk was followed by a brief address by Dr. Way Sung-new, who alluded in particular to two problems facing the National Association. He drew attention to the need for legalised procedure in the qualification of medical practitioners and the necessity of dealing with those schools which are turning out men of low grade.

Guests at the dinner included Dr. and Mrs. J. B. Fearn, Dr. and Mrs. A. C. Selmon, Drs. J. C. McCracken, A. W. Tucker, Cecil Davenport, H. H. Morris, C. C. Landis, W. G. Hiltner, C. S. F. Lincoln, W. W. Peter, F. S. Tyau, C. V. E. Yui, Way Sung-new, Way Ling-new, K. T. Yui, T. C. Chang, Y. K. Koo, L. S. Woo, C. Y. Ling Mary Stone, Pucete Stone and Miss Moy.

Goo-Goo Talk Taboo



You're all wrong, Baby, all wrong. Dr. Walter B. Swift, of Chicago, says so. Instead of a six-months-old child saying "Goo-goo" when mother chuckles him under the chin, he should says, "Desist, mother; your antics annoy me." So says Dr. Swift, and he has established a school at the North-western University School of Speech, where babies may learn to speak perfect English at the age of six months. The photo shows Dr. Swift with his first pupil, eight-months-old Janes Paynter.

Mixed Court Angle In Alleged Attempt To Murder Gen. Wang

A new angle of intrigue in the alleged plot to murder General Wang Pei-chun, Southern appointee to the post of Kweichow civil governor, came to light in the Mixed Court yesterday when one of the men arrested in the Settlement following the exposure was charged with being in possession of dangerous weapons, supposedly for unlawful purposes.

The defendant, whose name is given as Sing Sz-kwen and who is described as an ex-military officer, was arrested at 331 Kiukiang Road on information received following the apprehension of one Hsin at the Shanghai North railway station. The information was to the effect that Sing was guilty of murder. Hsin, according to reports emanating from the Defense Commissioner's yamen, confessed to being involved in plans to assassinate Wang. A fully loaded revolver and a dagger were found in Sing's room.

Detective Inspector Prosser stated to the Court that Sing was previously a servant of General Wang Wen-hua, brother of General Wang Pei-chun, who was assassinated in front of the Yih Ping Shang Hotel last March. The prisoner, witness said, did not hide the fact that he was out to kill a certain man, one Tsang Ping-tsang, who had been a comrade of his. A statement which he had made was handed into court and Detective Inspector Prosser stated that he had not charged the prisoner under the by-laws owing to the serious nature of the case. Assessor Hutchison, after reading over the by-law regarding possession of arms, made the statement that this was a case clearly emphasising the necessity for redrafting by-law XXXVII to cover the possession of arms without license in the Settlement.

A remand of a week was granted to enable the police to make further investigation.

GEN. W. M. BLACK HERE TO BEGIN STUDY OF HARBOR

International Commission To Devote Two Months To Whangpoo Survey

General W. M. Black, American member of the International Commission of Engineering Experts to begin a two-months' study of the Shanghai Harbor, arrived tonight from Peking. General Black, who was formerly chief of the United States Army engineers, crossed the Pacific on the Empress of Asia, leaving the liner at Yokohama to make the rail trip across Korea to Peking.

L. Perier, the French representative, arrived yesterday morning on the steamer China, coming from Paris by way of America. M. Perier was for 20 years an engineer on the Suez Canal.

All the foreign experts are now here with the exception of Mr. F. Palmer, the British member of the Commission, who is expected in Shanghai today. The opening session of the Commission will be held at the offices of the Whangpoo Conservancy Board, Kiukiang Road, Saturday morning and daily meetings will follow.

On Monday evening a dinner will be held in honor of the visitors at the Astor House Hotel.

LOST AND FOUND

The difference between motor car thefts in Shanghai and those in other lands is that the car is always recovered.

Shortly after midnight yesterday morning Mr. J. De Zutter, 8 Jinkee Road, reported to the police that his Scripps-Booth car had been stolen from before the Victoria Theater. A short time later a Sikh policeman discovered the machine, unattended, on Yangtszepoo Road near the No. 1 Cotton Mill.

3,000 GATHER TO HONOR NATION'S DAY OF BIRTH

(China Press Correspondence)

Nanking, Oct. 11.—Three thousand people attended the celebration of the tenth anniversary of the Chinese Republic last night at the University of Nanking campus. The program was conducted by the arts committee, one of the five executive bodies of the students' government of the University.

Hundreds of lanterns had been strung in the trees about the campus. The tower of the Saverence Administration building sparkled with a thousand electric lights. At 7:30 o'clock, the University middle school students marched onto the campus, accompanied by the University band. After singing of the national anthem, addresses were delivered by a number of students.

The celebration was the most elaborate ever held on the campus. It was entirely arranged and paid for by students in the colleges and the Chinese faculty of the university.

SOOCHOW CELEBRATES

Comedies were performed and speeches delivered by several local men of prominence. A dinner was served in the District Educational Association building.

In the evening, there was a lantern procession. Schools and colleges, boy scouts, Soochow volunteer Corps, fire brigades and the Soochow Christian Association participated. The procession was several miles long.

How America's Immigration Problem Is Being Solved

AMERICA has often been called the melting pot, supposedly because of the fusion of many races into the one general type.

But the boiling of the pot during the war, when the test by fire was the call to service, showed that the ore separated naturally into the elements of pure metal, and those of dross and scum. The one was apparent in the number of foreign-born who swelled the ranks overseas, or contributed time and money to aid the government at home. The other floated to the surface in the way of slackers, anarchists, labor agitators, and other elements everywhere disloyal to the government.

The lesson learned is vital to America's future. Congress has risen to the occasion by shutting all gates except the needle's eye, and is determined to pass in this session legislation which will remove for all time the dangers of a growing body of hyphenated citizens. The present temporary law, passed to give a breathing spell necessary for an inventory of the strangers within the gates, limits the immigration of any nationality to three percent of the number of foreign-born persons of that nationality already resident in the United States.

It seems that the past decade of bungling with immigration laws, with literacy tests, and other futile means of sifting the undesirables from the welcome, is actually to bear fruit in wise and permanent legislation. The new laws will aim not only at preserving but raising the standard of American citizenship by rejecting those who cannot qualify for that privilege.

The sudden application of the three percent law occasioned great hardship to thousands of immigrants last summer. Many reached Ellis Island to learn that the quota from their countries had already been filled for the month, and they, therefore, had to return to Europe.

Protests have been made, notably from Great Britain, some of whose subjects were repatriated. The law allows only 1,138 French immigrants to enter every month, whereas for a like period 13,608 Germans may be admitted. In this respect the three percent law may prove harmful, but upon the whole it is operative for good. The foreign-born already in America are being subjected to a scrutiny which promises legislation based upon thorough understanding of America's immigration problem.

The fever of railway building and industrial expansion is over in America. Farmers are needed rather than factory hands. In the past the uneducated aliens have settled for the most part in the large cities of the eastern seaboard. The crowded conditions and squalor of the foreign sections of these cities operated against Americanisation of the immigrants. And it is among the foreigners huddled together that the seed of anti-American propaganda always takes root.

It is understood the new laws will provide for the distribution of the peasant immigrants to the farming districts of the West, here there is a shortage of labor every harvest. At present there are six million unemployed in America, according to the Department of Labor. The cities are over-crowded. There is no place for the immigrant save on the land, which the government will make attractive by favorable regulations and grants. The keynote of the new policy is to disperse the immigrants, and assist the processes of assimilation by bringing the new arrivals into contact with a greater number of Americanised citizens.

A bill has been introduced to create a Bureau of Citizenship which will supervise the Americanisation of the foreigners. There will be instruction in English, in health and sanitation, in governmental institutions and laws. Moving pictures will be used to illustrate American history and the development of the country. The point made is that aliens who wish to settle in the "land of promise" in the future must be potential citizens. Otherwise they are not wanted.

For ten years there has been a growing feeling that immigration should be limited to races which are largely Nordic in stock. Just what shape the measures of discrimination will take cannot be anticipated. But if public opinion is followed there will be drastic restrictions against the dissatisfied classes of southeastern Europe who merely transport their discontent from the Balkans to America.

The flood is on the dikes, and America must choose her future citizens with more care than in the past. The war proved certain elements to be extremely dangerous; they must be eliminated. Doctrinaires devoted to the noble terms liberty, freedom and humanity, have thus far dictated America's immigration laws. They have failed to protect the type. It is now the turn of the scientist, and the application of sociological and eugenic law. From the nature of the immigration laws soon to be passed the American of the future can be pictured as though he were already in the flesh. Such is the power of legislation.

POTTED SPORTS

(Colonel Bogey has written a book called "Sports in a Nutshell." For his descriptions of our best known pastimes—like his name—they are difficult to beat.)

HORSE-RACING

Horse-racing is called the Sport of Kings; after Richard III., who once remarked, "a horse, a horse, my kingdom for a horse," and never smiled again. The object in a horse race is to get there first—the same applies to Chinese ponies—but in spite of this even the slowest horses are frequently backed.

There are three degrees of betting:

Bet, better, bust.

LAWN-TENNIS

Lawn-tennis was invented by the Prince of Wales, whose old motto, Ich Dien, is believed to be the German for "I serve." The game was originally simple, but locally it has gone to "Pott." No one nowadays is considered to be any good at it who cannot do the American back-hand upper-cut half nelson smash with lift. If you cannot do this well it is a fault; if you can, it's the deuce.

If the player hits a reporter he gets a black headline. Tennis has been a favorite game with the ladies since the days of the maiden all for-lawn.. One of the best known tennis songs is: "Oh, Suzanne!"

The Ex-Kaiser's Life At Dutch Doorn

BY ENID WILKIE

(New York Times)

The life of William of Hohenzollern has changed little since the death of his faithful companion, the ex-Kaiserin of Germany. From all personal accounts, the ex-Kaiser has already recovered from the first shock and sorrow and is cheerful and active again, in spite of the apparently inconsolable grief which first seemed to overwhelm him. He was at first so overcome that his only daughter did not dare leave him alone to return to her husband and children in Germany.

William Hohenzollern has, however, now resumed his normal existence at Doorn. Every morning he rises at 6:30, and at 7:30 he walks down to the Hofmarschallamt at the main gate, inspecting everything. He then takes an hour's constitutional around the grounds, after which he breakfasts. Every day at 9:30 there are prayers in the small chapel in the park. The ex-Kaiser himself reads the prayers, and his small court and retinue, who are all obliged to attend, repeat them after him. Special prayers are now said for the ex-Kaiserin.

At 10 o'clock the ex-Kaiser begins his wood sawing, which he continues till 12:30, except for a break at 11 o'clock, when a bottle of Rhine wine is served. Wearing an old pair of brecches and in shirtsleeves, the ex-Kaiser works strenuously for two and one-half hours. After wood-sawing, the ex-Kaiser takes a bath and changes for luncheon, which is served at 1 o'clock, and then retires for an afternoon siesta.

The adjutant and Hofmarschall von Gonthard take it in turn to saw wood with the ex-Kaiser, but any one who happens to press in the grounds is asked to lend a hand. The staff and servants therefore avoid this part of the grounds as much as possible.

The ex-Kaiser's room is never without a fire, even during the warmest Summer days, and there is nothing he enjoys more than to take a small log, cut by himself, and throw it on the fire.

In the afternoon the ex-Kaiser works in his large flower and vegetable garden, which has become his chief hobby, specialising in roses and rhododendrons. He works so hard at digging and other gardening that the gardeners who are obliged to work with him are often glad when he departs. The ex-Kaiser is still physically so strong that, while the gardeners perspire under the hard work, he remains cool and fresh and unperturbed. At times he is seen pushing a laden wheelbarrow through the grounds.

At a recent local flower show the ex-Kaiser won two second prizes, both for vases of English sweet peas he had grown himself. During the drought the ex-monarch would spend hours watering the garden himself with a hose.

At 5:30 o'clock William dons the uniform of a Prussian General and all his medals, and at 7:30 o'clock the great dinner gong is sounded. Dinner lasts about one hour, and usually one of the adjutants or the Hofmarschall keeps William company, or, to be more accurate, listens to him talking.

William Hohenzollern's life at Doorn is carried on like a miniature Potsdam, in spite of the ex-monarch's effort to make the world believe that he is leading the life of a simple country gentleman. The meals are, however, frugal. Lunch consists of bread and butter, cold meats and coffee. Dinner consists of soup, meat, and vegetables and potatoes, a sweet dish and one glass of wine. These frugal meals, however, have only been in vogue since his ex-majesty arrived at Doorn. At Amerongen the meals were much more elaborate and the ex-royalties lived on quite a different scale. The household expenses, including wages and food, amounted to 7,000 or 8,000 guilders monthly at Amerongen and the menus were very elaborate. The ex-Kaiser paid all the household bills at Amerongen and Count Bentinck contributed 25 florins a week for each member of his family. Besides this the ex-monarch was obliged to pay 2,000 guilders a month for three living rooms and a small attic room for von Gonthard. In spite of all these expenses the ex-Kaiser gave 5,000 guilders as gratuities to servants when he left. He now pretends his income is 150,000 guilders a year.

On a rainy day the ex-Kaiser spends his time indoors carving his famous "W" on the blocks of wood he has sawed and carefully numbered, which he gives away as souvenirs. These are the only souvenirs, moreover, which are not officially recorded.

There are constant arrivals from Germany and nearly always visitors at Doorn House. A number of prominent German Generals have recently visited the ex-Kaiser and stayed a week or ten days. On these occasions the talk is all of the great war and of strategy. Large maps are taken out and the whole campaign is gone over in detail. Chess is often played in the evening and a bottle of Rhine wine is served late.

The ex-Kaiser apparently no longer entertains hopes of returning to Germany as monarch and is evidently preparing to stay on permanently at Doorn. There are, however, many signs that he firmly believes in a future monarchy. Recently some Germans offered to return some presents which belonged by right to the Emperor of Germany. The ex-Kaiser replied: "No, keep them and give them to the next Emperor of Germany."

Although it is not generally known, the ex-Kaiser has had a private talk with Queen Wilhelmina of Holland. This took place at the home of the Governor of Utrecht, the ex-Kaiser driving in one gateway and the Queen entering by another, as though without prearrangement.

Princess Victoria Louise, now Duchess of Brunswick and the ex-Kaiser's only daughter, has been very sad and pale since the death of her mother, as is also Prince Oscar, in whose arms the ex-Kaiserin died and who kept vigil night after night by her bedside for weeks before she breathed her last.

The laundry which was prepared for the ex-Kaiserin by the ex-Kaiser as a surprise on her last birthday in a small outlying farmhouse still remains as a relic of the model German hausfrau. The laundry is fitted up with electric washers and white enameled tubs.

The ex-Crown Prince has paid frequent visits to Doorn House since the death of his mother, and from all accounts appears to be on much more friendly terms with his father. They walk together, laughing and chatting, and often saw wood in company. Formerly when the ex-Crown Prince visited Amerongen or Doorn he spent a few hours with the ex-Kaiserin, hardly spoke to his father and spent the rest of his time driving madly around the country in a small automobile, doubtless glad of a nice long stretch of road after the confinement of his small wind-swept island.

Amusing tales are told in the village of Doorn of how "Willy" went to the village blacksmith and asked if he could shoe a horse, which stood there waiting to be shod. The blacksmith, not recognising him, told him somewhat severely to be very careful, as a horse was a delicate animal. The ex-Crown Prince, however, completed his job surprisingly well, having made a hobby of it on his island of Weiringen. On another occasion he worked for some hours with bricklayers at Doorn House, showing them how to carry up large piles of bricks in the shortest possible time.

In the new, imposing-looking building at the main gate, which forms an entrance and is the Hofmarschallamt, the ex-Kaiser has prepared a room for each of his sons in the hope that they will visit him frequently.

The gaudy building with Dutch gables designed by the ex-Kaiser, which forms the entrance to his austere abode, is characteristic of William's love of show. This is the "Hofmarschallamt," and the secretaries may be seen carrying large white envelopes printed with the inscription "Hofmarschallamt seiner Majestat des Kaisers and Konigs Wilhelm II."

The Hohenzollern banking account is on a much more diminished scale, but the ostentation and meticulous care taken to record every event and the smallest act in the family archives keep the Hofmarschall von Gonthard constantly busy. These documents already fill an enormous oak closet, though only date back to the ex-monarch's arrival in Holland. Every time William makes the smallest gift or any change occurs in the household it is recorded in the archives, then signed and countersigned in the most official manner. When the ex-Kaiser moved into Doorn House an official dinner was given to the personnel in the servants' dining hall, attended by von Gonthard, who made a speech. Even this episode, including the speech, was inscribed in the archives.

Von Gonthard the Hofmarschall is perhaps the hardest working and busiest man who ever served in an ex-royal household. He is obliged to rise every morning at 5 o'clock to see that everything is in order in the grounds before the ex-Kaiser takes his early morning walk, and he often remains on duty until midnight or 1 A. M. Sometimes the ex-Kaiser retires at 10:30, but at other times he will sit up until midnight or 1 A. M., while the overworked von Gonthard sits yawning, not daring to go to bed in case his ex-royal master should summon him, which, moreover, he often does.

Von Gonthard keeps a small electric lamp and a notebook on a table by his bedside and often wakes up in the night to note down things he has forgotten during the day.

This devotion to the fallen master is touching to a degree when one considers that he gets practically nothing out of it but a doubtful honor. One of the ex-Kaiser's recent secretaries received only 200 florins a month and the present secretary receives 175 florings, which hardly pays for a roof over his head in the expensive vicinity of Doorn.

Captain Ilseman, the ex-monarch's private secretary, who married Count Bentinck's daughter, the Countess Margeret, and went away (Count Bentinck was the ex-Kaiser's host at Amerongen), is back again at Doorn House. The young couple live with Count Bentinck and Ilseman goes to Doorn every day and has resumed his task of reading and translating all the papers and of giving the ex-Kaiser a rough outline of the news of the day.

The ex-Kaiser reads many papers, including some New York journals. He laughs heartily over the reports about himself, but ceased his subscription to the Nieuwe Rotterdamsche Courant after that paper published the Kautsky book.

Thus the ex-monarch continues his existence in Doorn House, surrounded by the gloomy wooded grounds, with the silent guards pacing continually up and down and keeping vigil on the former owner of the Potsdam Palace with its pomp and splendor.

Tourist char-a-bancs, bicyclists, trippers from Amsterdam now include the home of the exiled William in their itinerary, and the ex-Kaiser's body detective, De Graaf, is so much on the alert to see that no harm comes to William Hohenzollern that his face wears a harassed expression.

The Fable Of The Classy Girl Whose Mater Kept Watch On Her Like Hawk

Once there was a full-sized Girl named Florine whose Folks kept close Tab on her. Any night-blooming Harold who presumed to keep the Parlor open after Midnight heard low Voices on the Hallway and then a Rap on the Door. If Florine put on her Other Dress and went to a Hop then Mother would sit up and wait for her, and 1 o'clock was the Outside Limit.

Consequently, Florine would have to duck on the Festivities just when everything was getting Good. Furthermore, she would have to warn Mr. Escort to behave himself when they drew near the House.

"Nothing doing at the Gate," she would say, warningly. "It's Dollars to Dumplings that the Girl Detective is peeking out to get a Line on my Conduct. She has her Ear to the Ground about four-thirds of the Time and if any one makes a Move, then Mother is Next.

MOTHER IS INTUITIVE

"If Father takes a Drink from his Stock in the Locker at the Club and then starts Homeward on a fast Trolley, Mother knows all about it when he is still three Blocks from the House. What's more, she is a knowing Bird and can't be fooled by Cloves or those little Peppermint Choo-Choos. The only time when Mother kisses Father is when she wants to catch him with the Goods. Look Out! This is our Corner."

As soon as they had landed at the Gate, little Florine would say in loud, clear Tones that would carry as far as the Sitting-Room Window, "Oh, Mr. Gilblitz, I have had a most charming Evening, and I wish to thank you most heartily."

EIGHT-FOOT 'DEADLINE'

Whereupon the Escort, standing 8 Feet away, with his Concertina Hat in his Hand and the Face in the Moonlight beaming with Child-like Innocence, would come back thusly:

"It's awfully good of you to say that. Good Night."

After which, Mother was supposed to believe that they had been 8 Feet apart all Evening. But Mother was Canny and up to Snuff, with a Memory that reached back at least twenty-five Years. These little One-Act Plays under the Window did not throw her off for any part of a Minute. Before Florine turned in she was Cross-Examined and required to tell with whom she had danced, and why and how often and what he said.

Occasionally the Daughter worked the Mental Reservation. In other Words, she held out on Mother. She said that she had sat out most of the Numbers, but she admitted going through a Square Dance with the Young Man who passed the Plate at the Episcopal Church.

MOTHER CAN'T BE FOOLED

At which Mother would wink the Off Eye and Murmur, "Is that so?" with the Loud Pedal on the "That." Also something about being more than Seven.

One of Florine's Ancestors on Mother's Side happened to be on Earth at the time of the Revolution, and Father often spoke of a Second Cousin who had been in Congress until the District had tumbled to him.

Because of this current of Blue Blood racing in her Veins, Florine was supposed to be a trifle Classy and Mother was always afraid that she might get Thumb-Marks on the Family Escutcheon. Therefore Florine was forbidden to work up a calling Acquaintance with any of the Hoi Polloi, which is Greek for Selling Platers.

According to Mother, there were only about 8 Families in Town that really belonged and some of them didn't Belong enough to hurt. Florine found herself cut out of many a Good Time because the Chaperone for the Occasion chanced to be related to some one who had been in the Liquor Business.

EMBARGO ON SPEEDY

Florine was up against it ever so Hard. She had to go out in the Grape Arbor when she wanted to chew gum, and she kept her reading matter under the Mattress. Nearly every high-speed Bachelor in Town had been forbidden the Premises because of the Stories that were going around. The kind that Mother approved were of the Lilac Division and White Puff Ties and their Hair glued down. They talked about Choir practise, and sometimes, when they were sufficiently wrought up, they played Charades.

The only Chance that Florine had to mingle with the Popular Boys was to go down Town in the Afternoon and just happen to meet one of them at the Ice-Cream Parlor.

Florine learned to be quite a Happener. But on the way home she would have to fix up a few Jules Vernes for the Old Lady in the Watch Tower. Mother knew that it didn't take 4 Hours to be measured to a Shirt Waist.

"Wait until I get Married," Florine would say. "I'll make that Stutz racer look like a Steam-Roller. If Mother doesn't let up on me, I'll learn to smoke Cigarettes."

SHE MEETS TOWN TRIFLER

At times she was so Desperate that she was ready to join a Troupe or elope with a Drummer. She wanted to get out among the Bright Lights and hear the band play. And she knew that she couldn't turn Flip-Flops and break the Furniture and play Rag-Time along after Midnight until she had become a Respectable Married Woman. So she had her Distress Signal out and used to drop very Broad Hints, when she was chatting with the Lads who happened to be in the Soda-Water Resort when she dropped in. They liked Florine for Keeps, but when one of them thought of clinching with old Eagle-Eye, the Family Sleuth, he weakened.

Florine would have remained a Dead Card if she had not gone on a Visit to a neighboring City where she bumped into the Town Trifler.

He had a Way of proposing to every Girl the first time he met her. It always seemed to him such a cordial Send-Off for a budding friendship. Usually the Girl asked for Time and then the Two of them would Fiddle around and Fuss and Make Up and finally send back all the Letters and that would be the Finish.

Florine fooled the foxy Philanderer. The Moment he came to her with the Marriage Talk She took a firm Hold and said:

"You're on! Get your license tomorrow morning. Then cut all the Telegraph Wires and burn the Railroad Bridges!"

MOTHER BREATHES EASIER

They were Married, and strange as it may appear, Mother immediately resigned her Job as Policeman and said:

"Thank Goodness, I've got you Married Off! Now you can do as you please."

When Florine found that she could do as she pleased she discovered that there wasn't very much of anything to do except Settle Down. After about seven Chafing-Dish Parties she expended her whole Stock of pent-up Ginger and now she is just as Quiet as the rest of us.

TEXACO

a liquid lubricant for—
Differentials, Worm Drives, and Transmissions of Automobiles

Texaco Thuban Compound is a heavy, mineral lubricant—not a grease.

It gives the best obtainable lubricating service because it sticks to gear teeth. No grade, speed, nor any other adverse condition will make "Thuban" sling off. It forms a protective cushion of oil which prevents metal contact when the gears mesh, thus reducing friction and increasing power. Notice the decrease of noise when "Thuban" is used. There is no clash and grind when the gears shift.

A very little "Thuban" goes a long way. You need only enough to bathe the gear teeth as they revolve in the power housing. This is because of its adhesive power which keeps a film on them at all times. "Thuban" is a real economy because you must use it sparingly for best results.

ENGINEERS HEAR BRIDGE EXPERT IN ANNUAL MEET

(China Press Correspondence)

Hankow, Oct. 9. — Concrete evidence of Chinese-American cooperation was given here this week when about forty prominent engineers of both nations came from Peking, Tientsin, Shanghai and other cities to attend the annual meeting of the Association of Chinese and American Engineers.

On the evening of the arrival of visiting delegates they were entertained at dinner by their colleagues at Hankow and nearby cities. Mr. K. Y. Kwong, president of the Association and manager of the Peking-Suiyuan Railway, presided at the opening session. Mr. C. Y. Wang, mining engineer of Hankow, who is now en route to attend the disarmament conference at Washington as an adviser to the Chinese delegation, prepared a paper on "The Minerals and Mining Industry of China."

Dr. J. A. L. Waddell, American bridge expert, addressed the meeting on the "The Best Type of Bridges for China," and a paper on "Concrete Piles with Bamboo Reinforcement," was read by Mr. Tick G. Wong, engineer of the Szechuen-Hankow Railway.

A banquet was served at the Russian Club. Messages from Dr. Jacob Gould Schurman, American minister to Peking, and Mr. Hsiun Hsi-ling, director-general of Flood Relief and Conservancy, were read. Mr. P. S. Heintzleman, American Consul-General at Hankow, spoke.

Practically all of the important engineering works in the vicinity of Hankow were visited by the delegates.

Officers elected by the association are: Dr. Yen Teh-ching, managing director of the Canton-Hankow Railway, president; Mr. Murray Sullivan, manager of the Chinese Engineering and Development Company and Mr. Yang Paoling, engineer of the Grand Canal Improvement Board, vice-presidents; Mr. F. K. Sah, director of the Industries Promotion Department of the Ministry of Communications, treasurer; and Mr. P. Y. Tsai, technical expert for the Ministry of Communications, secretary.

Formosan Is Suing Chung Hwa Book Co. For Heavy Damages

Action for $60,000 damages against the Chung Hwa Book Company of Shanghai was started in the Mixed Court before Japanese Assessor Tanaka and Magistrate Loh by Chang Hsi-chuan, former manager of the company's Singapore branch and a Japanese protected subject resident in the French concession. Chang claims to be a Formosan.

The court adjourned without announcing its decision.

Chung Hsi-chuan, represented by Madame Flora Rosenberg, asserted that the book company had wrongfully and maliciously instituted proceedings against him in the French Mixed Court and the Japanese Court, alleging that he made illegal use of the company's chop in connection with a loan for $15,000 with the compradore of the Hongkong and Shanghai Bank in Singapore. The action was dismissed in each instance.

Plaintiff entered into a contract with the company to manage their Singapore branch, putting in $7,000, according to the defense, represented by Mr. H. D. Rodger. The loan with the Hongkong and Shanghai Bank was a personal one, and one which the company knew nothing about until claim for payment was made, the defense contended, and if each of the forty branch managers of the concern followed Chung's procedure the company would go broke.

Madame Rosenberg attempted to introduce a bundle of Chinese newspapers as evidence of plaintiff's reputation being injured, but Mr. Rodgers objected, asserting it was up to Chung to sue the newspapers.

Stock Exchanges In French Concession Under Strict Rules

Stock exchanges in the French concession must hereafter be registered and undergo strict supervision by French authorities.

The establishment of a large number of exchanges in French town recently caused Mr. Hsu Yuan, Commissioner for Foreign Affairs, acting under orders from the Minister of Agriculture and Commerce at Peking, to request French authorities to exercise stricter supervision over the exchanges as they were seriously affecting the business of foreign banks.

Accordingly the French Consul general has issued instructions that all exchanges operating in French town must submit to an examination and be registered in the French concession; print the names of their shareholders on their share scripts, and not transfer the stock of the exchange itself within three months of opening.

The exchanges are also prohibited from selling stock in concerns in which they are financially interested.
